

I oppose federal law or regulation weakening Wisconsin's No-Call Law. I am all for State's Rights over federal law/regulation. If this is all such a problem and some consumers really want this, why not start a "Call List" and everyone that wants these irritating calls can be on it. And I would guess that there would be very few if any people on it and perhaps no legislators or regulators at all. It is ridiculous to allow these energy-zapping sales people to make more than ONE call, let alone for a year and one half.
